JOIN US IN OTTAWA!

Don't miss your chance to network with the global extractive metallurgy in one, convenient location.

Extraction 2018 is home to important recurring symposia, as well as new programming on emerging technologies and marketplace issues. The joint efforts of three leading professional societies—the Metallurgy and Materials Society (MetSoc) of the Canadian Institute of Mining, Metallurgy and Petroleum (CIM); the Society for Mining, Metallurgy & Exploration (SME); and The Minerals, Metals & Materials Society—assure a successful conference.

Extraction 2018 is the home for Hydrometallurgy 2018 and the 7th International Symposium on Sulfide Smelting, as well as new technical programming tracks and a Sunday plenary event focused on Extractive Metallurgy Markets and Economics.

For more information on technical topics and to see how the Extraction program aligns with your business interests, visit the Technical Program web page at www.ExtractionMeeting.org.
