Extractive Metallurgy Markets and Economics

Part of the Extraction 2018 global extractive metallurgy conference

Exclusive to Extraction 2018, this one-day symposium will provide the business context for the meeting's more specific technical symposia and presentations. The intent of the symposium is to connect technical and non-technical professionals for discussion of current issues and development of an improved understanding of each other's fields and challenges. Invited speakers will discuss metal trading, the impact of impurities on tolling and refining charges, environmental regulations world-wide, protectionism, and an outlook to the future.

Anyone in the commodities business, working in either the technical or commercial arena, will benefit from this provocative overview of developing business trends. A reception following the symposium offers valuable opportunities to follow up with speakers, as well as network with key players in the commodities industry.
